OBSERVE

ONE CENT-DIME

Donald Barer of 196 Broadway, Newark, N. J. proud owner of this rare piece found it while making change from a new roll of 1956 cents. A photo of Donald and other particulars were printed in the September issue.

Note Roosevelt's head impression horizontally on the obverse, and leaf with one dime imprinted in wheat stalk on reverse. Michael Kolman Jr. of Ohio reports having a similar piece in his collection. Donald has received offers of nothing to $50.00. His latest offer, of $125.00 is from a reader in California.

A one-cent dime struck in silver—what's your opinion? Is it a cent or a dime?

COINAGE OPERATIONS

Silver coins are made from pure silver alloyed with copper at the ratio 100 parts copper and 900 parts silver. The 5c nickel coins are made from an alloy of 75% copper and 25% nickel. The 1c bronze coins are made from an alloy of 95% copper and 5% zinc and tin.

The various metals are alloyed in the make-up room for the denomination for which they are intended. When the alloys are properly made-up, the metals go to the melting furnaces where they are melted in crucibles in electric furnaces. These metals, when melted to the proper temperature, are poured into moulds, and thus cast into ingots of various sizes. These ingots are then passed through the rolling mills a sufficient number of times to roll them down to the thickness required for the denomination of coin for which they are intended. The strips for the 5c nickel - and 1c silver coin - require annealing during this process of rolling because of a tendency to harden. From these strips planchets are cut on a blanking press; the sizes of these planchets are in accordance with the denomination of coin for which they are intended. After these planchets, or blanks, are punched out of the strips, they are fed through an annealing furnace. This softens them for the stamping machines. After being treated in the annealing furnace the blanks are placed in tumbling barrels where they are tumbled in various solutions to polish them, and take off the rough edge from the blanking, after which they are thoroughly dried in drying machines. These blanks are next processed through the milling or "upsetting" machines. Here the edge of the blank is rolled back and upset.

All of the blanks are taken to the Reviewing Room for inspection, and those found defective removed during this operation, and are re-melted. The good blanks are then taken to the Coin Press Room where they are processed through the stamping machines and struck with the dies, thus making them coins. The reeded edge on the silver coin is accomplished at the same time that the obverse and reverse of the coins are struck by the dies. This is effected through the pressure of the metal against the collar on the side of the coin.

The coins are then run through a counting machine which counts them very rapidly, and at the same time fills the bags. In the case of all coinage, - the bags are then sealed. When this has been accomplished, the bags are delivered to the Superintendent's vault ready for delivery to the various Federal Reserve Banks.

Each denomination of coin is bagged as follows:

	Per bag
U.S. One Cent .....	$ 50.
Dimes, Quarters, Half Dollars and Dollars .....	1,000.
Five Cent .....	200.

RARE 1804 SILVER DOLLAR LOST

A clipping sent by Charles V. Taylor of Cleveland, Ohio, states rare 1804 dollar valued at $10,000 was missing from the home of Mrs. George Taylor upon her return from a vacation. It has been in her family's possession since it was minted. It was one of only five minted.

PROOFS

Proof sets continue to soar in price and interest. Orders of 1956 proof sets have been returned due to an overload, as of August. It is now understood orders for 1957 proof sets are being excepted as of November 1, 1956. I venture to say the 1956 proof sets minted will be in the vicinity of 500,000. Below is a break-down of proof sets issued.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The chilled air is now upon us, which will keep many of us indoors. Some will be going to schools and colleges, for others this is the time to dust off their collections and sets. They will now appraise their values and probably make some improvements, possibly sell, trade or buy a few items. Others will gasp at the latest prices now asked and wonder what goes with the proof sets. I believe the proof sets will reach its peak shortly and a new interest will be making the highlights. What will it be? Rolls, commemoratives, gold, Uncirculated singles. I believe gold may start an interest with a few interests in rolls. This is just one man's opinion. Let me hear what yours might be!

A PRIMER ON GRADING

First of all there are a few who don't agree on various grading opinions. In others some haven't had much experience, therefore occasions arise, whereas coins purchased are rejected, or coins offered for sale or trade are returned etc. Actually anyone is entitled to grade his own coins as he sees it. But as a general standard which has been accepted by most all collectors and dealers. The following is an outline guide: Most coins with raised lettering and high points such as (Liberty) on the Indian cent, Lincolns (ear) and the wheat lines, (we) on 2 cent piece the (knee, shield and date) on standing Liberty quarters wear the fastest and are good points to check when grading. Other type coins such as large cent, Liberty nickel, Morgan dimes, quarters and halves which have Liberty pressed in wear less.

A coin considered good should have most all border rims with date mint mark and legend visible.

A coin considered Very Good, has full border rims, clear date and mint mark and most of legend clear. Usually part of Liberty shows.

A Fine coin shows some wear but all lettering, date, marking and Liberty should be clear.

A coin Very Fine shows a little or no wear.

MICHAEL KOLMAN JR. of Federal Coin Exchange at his desk.

Note fractional currency shield on wall.

The MINT ERROR COLLECTORS have finally organized, the first meeting having taken place in Chicago at the A.N.A. Convention.

Mr. Michael Kolman of the Federal Coin Exchange was elected President. Mr. Raymond Larson of 423 N. 4th Street, Plattsmouth, Nebraska was elected as Secretary-Treasurer.

The organization took off with a bang, with over 25 members applying for application as well as many well known dealers.

List of membership and other notations will be published periodically. Dues will be $2.00 and charter will close December 1, 1956.

A coin X.F. or A.U. has some lustre and shows no wear.

An uncirculated coin has all lustre with no wear, rubbings or marks, although some early coppers turn dark, they are considered uncirculated.

A Proof is a specially polished coin which is extremely well struck for collectors and is not intended for circulation.

In our next issue I will be more specific, with possibly a picture of the coin in question.

You may have noted some of my ads in the ad section, some of our readers may feel this is in direct competition with other advertisers. This is not my intention. Corresponding, buying, selling and trading helps me keep abreast with the latest doings. In this way I can also know your likes and dislikes. My attending conventions and gatherings are limited due to other activities and getting the "Flying Eaglet" ready for you each month.

LETTERS OF COMMENTS

Dear Frank:

Read your article on Don Barber's one cent-dime these last few issues and was quite impressed, really quite a find.

Found a good one myself a few years ago, which I call my locket cent. Dated 1944 and struck on a shell case planchet, which wasn't the best of bronze, the metal had separated under pressure and caused half the obverse to open as a locket, showing half the obverse beneath. Whenever I had the opportunity to show it, it always commanded plenty of attention.

I also recently acquired a dollar bill showing a large green smear on the reverse in the shape of a finger, it had obviously been used to wipe the plate as there are a few white specks where the grit had stuck to the note and later were removed. Smear measures approximately 1x3" and extends from the border thru "LLA" of dollar to the top of right seal cutting out the left half of the eagle.

Dear Mr. Spadone:

Enclosed please find check in the amount of $8.00 to cover cost of subscription for 2 years and 25 word classified for 12 months. In the August issue I picked up the inquiry of Mr. Earl Hall regarding a source of supply for the polyethylene coin envelopes similar to those used by the mint for proof sets, from your Question - Answer box. Result, an order. Best of luck—and I hope your other advertisers do as well as I did.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC NUMISATIC ASSOCIATION FOURTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

October 26, 27, 28, 1956 — Jefferson Hotel, Virginia

1956 CONVENTION ANNOUNCEMENT

The Executive Board takes pleasure in announcing that the fourth annual MANA Convention will be October 26-28, 1956 at Richmond, Virginia. President George Walton has appointed as General Chairman John J. Dratt, and as Assistant General Chairman, William Bacon. Both gentlemen belong to the Richmond Coin Club, host for the Convention, and both assure the Association that the Southern Hospitality will live up to its reputation this October.

As we go to press the Chairmen have informed us that our customary and successful convention formula will be followed with minor variations to suit the hotel's spacious accommodations. For instance, the bourse room is 60% larger than the one we had in Philadelphia. Exhibits will be in the same room as the bourse; small business meetings and the auction will be in other suitable rooms on the same floor. There will be an educational exhibit of Confederate numismatics. Extra illumination will be provided by our own floods and spotlights. As always, insurance and guard service will conduce to peace of mind on the part of exhibitors and dealers alike. Admittance will be limited to those presenting registration badges or guest cards.

The Jefferson Hotel has a two-acre free parking lot just across the street, and you will encounter no traffic congestion arriving or leaving. It is the whole 100 block of West Main Street—just two short blocks off U.S. 1, 60, and 301; five blocks from downtown Richmond, near enough for shopping, yet sufficiently far out to escape city noise. There is a coffee shop and three dining rooms. One of these, the Empire Room, is considered the South's most beautiful banquet room. Even the lobby is impressive; a life-size marble statue of Thomas Jefferson greets you from atop a broad stairway from the mezzanine as you enter.

Bourse space will be available on an advance basis with those dealers who have supported MANA's earlier conventions being contacted on the first mailing. Tables will be assigned on a first come, first served basis; so better get your reply in early. The favorite spot-choosing reservation system has been abolished because of the injustices and volume of work resulting. Address all inquiries to the Bourse Chairman, Alex Kaptik, 3014 Knorr St., Philadelphia, Penna. Plan now to attend. "It's Dixie in '56!"

An Ancient Royal Murderer And His Victim

By Earl A. McBrayer

Bronze Sestertius of Caracalla struck in Britain 206-210 A.D.

In the year 211 A.D., the Roman emperor, Lucius Septimius Severus, died while campaigning in Britain. His successors were his two sons, Geta and Caracalla. The reason why the coins of Geta are scarcer than those of Caracalla is of interest to numismatists.

Geta and Caracalla inherited the throne of Severus as co-emperors, as was the desire of their father. Caracalla, however, was jealous of his brother and successfully arranged for the murder of Geta.

The act of simply removing his brother was insufficient to satisfy the worthless Caracalla. He next ordered that all statues of Geta should be taken down, all inscriptions pertaining to his glory be removed from public places, and all coins bearing his portrait be melted down. This naturally caused the coins of Geta to become more difficult for the collector to obtain than those of Caracalla who ordered new coins to be struck from the melted silver with his own effigy on the obverse.

Caracalla did not confine his savage acts to his brother. He further ordered the executions of some twenty thousand persons who were suspected of being in opposition to his methods of gaining sole control of the Roman Empire.

The profligacy of Caracalla was eventually brought to an abrupt end by Macrinus, one of his soldiers, who ordered the assassination of the treacherous son of Septimus Severus in the year 217 A.D.

NEWS ITEM

The Allegheny-Kiski Valley Numismatic Society resumed its monthly meetings on September 6, 1956 at the New Kensington Pa. Y.M.C.A., after a two month recess for the summer. Twelve members turned out for this meeting.

The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, October 4, 1956 at 7:30 P. M. at the East New Kensington, Pa. Community Center (opposite Martin School). At which time a list of questions taken from the Red Book will be answered by members. The one with the best score receiving a prize of one year's free dues.

Program planning for the rest of this year will be on the agenda.

Any interested coin collectors in this area is cordially invited to attend our meetings and join up with us.

LETTER OF COMMENT

Dear sir:

Enclosed you will find $2.00 for another years subscription to the "Flying Eaglet." I find many interesting news items and some good tips. Why not start a lucky change list? here is my find, first a 1914-D cent; 2nd Lincoln head with no date or mint mark tails both sides; 3rd a 1916-D dime, not too bad for this year.

Dear Sir:

Enjoyed my copies of "Flying Eaglet" so much - I wish to subscribe and hope I haven't missed a copy.

I have a 1910 Lincoln cent with mint mark D inside the last digit. Is that unusual? I take many coin magazines, but really like yours.

Sincerely,

EDITH MOLZ

THE DETROIT COIN CLUB

Host to

MICHIGAN STATE NUMISMATIC CONVENTION at the DETROIT-LELAND HOTEL

November 16, 17, 18, 1956.

Paul F. Schilling, General Chair. 17304 Lahser Rd., Detroit 19, Michigan.

Numismatic history will be made at Detroit on November 16th, 17th, 18th, 1956. For the first time, a convention has been called to unite all the regularly affiliated A.N.A. Clubs of Michigan into one new, big coin group to be known tentatively as the "Michigan Numismatic Society." The Detroit Coin Club is host and initiator of this venture and is arranging a three day convention as listed above. There will be short meetings, free entertainment for the ladies, and a fine banquet with superb talent. Most important of all to you, however, will be the Bourse. The Federal Coin Exchange of Cleveland will handle the auctions and issue a beautiful catalogue to its large clientele. This convention will be well advertised by newspapers, radio, television and coin magazines.

The Hotel Detroit-Leland has placed at our disposal the large "INDIA ROOM", a beautiful room with every space desirable.

Those of you dealers who exhibited at Detroit in the Spring of 1955, will remember the eager buying of coins and supplies by the collectors of Michigan. The Bourse committee of Detroit Coin Club promises you every help and courtesy. However, we cannot stretch the Bourse room and we do not intend to crowd the dealers so "First Come-First Served."

The price is $25.00, which includes registration, banquet ticket, police protection, and one display case. We hope you will not delay in sending in your check for your Bourse reservation. Make it payable to DETROIT COIN CLUB, and mail to Ben Stocker, 19953 Prest Avenue, Detroit 35, Michigan.

Remember - November 16th, 17th, and 18th - three full days for business. The place is Hotel Detroit-Leland in downtown Detroit, the city with the "New Look."

This convention comes at a time when buyers are gift-minded and this could be The convention of the year. Let us hear from you at your earliest convenience.

BEN STOCKER,
Bourse Chairman

BRILLIANT UNCIRCULATED YEAR SETS ALL MINTS.
EACH SET CONTAINS ONE EACH EVERY COIN MINTED FOR THAT YEAR.

1941	$10.50	1947	6.50	1952	6.75
1944	7.00	1948	9.50	1953	6.25
1945	7.00	1949	12.00	1954	4.75
1946	6.50	1950	9.00	1955	6.00

LESS FIVE PERCENT IF ALL TWELVE SETS ARE ORDERED.

SPECIAL ON ONE ROLL EACH OF 1c, 5c, 10c, 25c, 50c, OF THE 1954 PHILADELPHIA MINT. FACE VALUE $27.50
ALL 5 ROLLS FOR $33.00.

I still offer $35.00 Trade in value for each Brilliant. Unc. 1889-CC Silver Dollar. Your 89 must be reasonably nice.
This applies to anything in this ad including Rolls.

MY MONTHLY TIPS

Now that the 1950-D Nickel is about gone watch the price. I will allow a $12.50 trade value for each B.U. Roll sent me. I continue to recommend all 1955 dimes at current market prices. The 1953-S Dime looks very cheap at $7.50 per roll. Just a hunch.

REGARDING CARSON CITY DOLLARS

The 1889-CC is advertised at $35.00 each and hard to buy. There were 350,000 minted. The 1881-CC can be bought today for about $6.00 and only 296,000 minted. The 1885-CC today's price about $5.00 and this was the smallest mintage of all CC Dollars 228,000.

I estimate at least five million coin collectors today and the number is increasing every day. Think it over. If I was a collector and not a dealer I sure would put a few of all the CC Dollars away.

I will accept in trade Ten and Twenty Dollar Gold Pieces at DOUBLE FACE for anything in this ad. I have quite a few orders to fill.

ALL COINS IN THIS AD SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE.

Terms: Cash with order. All Penna. collectors add 3% State Tax. Everything must be as advertised. 7 day return with full refund.

QUESTION-ANSWER BOX

Mr. H. E. Lutes of Birchwood Wisconsin writes:

Question:

Are all plain coins unmarked by either letter from the Phila. Mint? Some others have P. I know these are Phila. Mint coins. Also, why is it I can't get uncirculated coins out here. I am not near any Federal Reserve Bank and have no way of getting them unless I pay some dealer a premium for them. I see dealers offer 1955-P halves and 1955-P nickels for sale. How do they get them? They have never reached this far west. Anything you can help me with will be appreciated.

Answer:

For the benefit of Mr. Lutes and others who may be interested I will try to answer his problem respectively. First, it is advisable for all collectors to obtain a guide book which gives many informative items.

All coins minted at Phila. do not have a mint mark (aside from initials of the designer of the coin) although display ads contain a letter P beside date. This is to denote the word Plain and is not a mint mark. The only coin with a mint mark of P (Phila.) was the Jefferson nickel, a wartime piece composed of copper, silver and manganese. The letter "P" was used for the first time on this piece to indicate the change of alloy. Nickel was a scarce war material and was not used for coining 1942 thru 1945.

It is advisable to make any requests for uncirculated rolls at any main branch bank. The 1955-P halves were mostly circulated through the south. 1955-P nickels were circulated in vicinity states of Pennsylvania. As it is noted, it is quite difficult to obtain the scarce rolls at various banks. It is advisable to purchase your rolls early from dealers while the premium is at a minimum.

I understand no 1955-P halves, 1955-P nickels, 1956-P nickels were available at the Federal Reserve Banks the past few months. Most collectors and dealers obtain their rolls from other dealers who deal strictly in B.U. rolls and order from them at the first issuance.

OPINION

One of the hardest things for a beginner to learn in coin collecting is that the most expensive coins are not really expensive at that time, because later you find that if you had bought the coin then, it would be a bargain today.

Mrs. Frank T. Churchill
Burlington, Vermont
